

About Martin Ogle

- Received B.S. (1982) and M.S. (1984) degrees in Wildlife Biology from Colorado State and Virginia Tech, respectively.
- Was Chief Naturalist for the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority, 1985-2012. Implemented a variety of programs on and working demonstrations of sustainability and Potomac Overlook Regional Park was awarded the 2007 Green Innovation Award (best Green Organization) by the Virginia Sustainable Building Network.
- In 2010, Martin received the Washington Academy of Sciences' Krupsaw Award for Non-Traditional Teaching for outstanding teaching in informal and non-academic settings.
- In 2012, he was presented the Arlington Green Patriot Award that recognizes outstanding work in sustainability in Arlington, Virginia. This award is given by Arlingtonians for a Clean Environment, George Mason University, Arlington Department of Environmental Services, and the Arlington Chamber of Commerce.

- For more than 20 years, Martin has presented lectures, courses and workshops on Gaia Theory to public groups, universities, environmental organizations, and other audiences. He has spoken in 8 states, Washington, D.C., Puerto Rico, Canada and South Korea.

- In 2006, Martin organized a major conference on Gaia Theory in Arlington, VA, that led to publication of the book "Gaia in Turmoil" (MIT Press, 2009). See <http://www.gaiatheory.org/2006-conference/>
- In 2012, Martin moved to Colorado and started "Entrepreneurial Earth LLC" to promote sustainability through an understanding of human systems as part of Earth's living systems. (See www.EntrepreneurialEarth.com).
- In 2012 Martin moved to Louisville, CO with his family – wife, Lisa, and twins, Cyrus and Linnea. Martin was born and raised much of his younger life in South Korea.

See www.EntrepreneurialEarth.com for testimonials and references.

Martin Ogle 720-612-0506
martinogle@EntrepreneurialEarth.com

